PART B: Below are several references and in-text citations: Something is wrong with each (there can be more than one wrong). Using a word processor, type each reference and in-text citation as it should appear. (Note, the authors' last names are in the correct order.)

...working memory has no effect on search efficiency (G. F. Woodman, E. K. Vogel, & S. J. Luck, 2001).

...Studies conducted by Turatto & Galfano (2001) showed...

...Reysen and Narine 2002 (Psychonomic Bulletin & Review) found that part-set cuing...

...(Butthead, Beavis, McVicker, Van Driessen, Anderson, Morgendorffer, Stevenson, & Judge) showed that grasshoppers can no longer chirp if you saw of their tweeter (1995)....

...who stated that “all matter is merely energy condensed to a slow vibration–that we are all one consciousness experiencing itself subjectively. There is no such thing as death; life is only a dream, and we are the imagination of ourselves. Here's Tom with the weather!” (p. 420-Bill Hicks, 1993)...
PART C: Below are the scan the first page for each of two journal articles. Using a word processor, write the APA-style reference for each article. All of the information you need to reference each article is below. Then, properly cite both articles where the blank appears in the sentence at the bottom of the page. Assume this is the first time each article is being cited in the text.
